

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FEBRUARY 16, 1953

JAMES C. HAGERTY, PRESS SECRETARY TO THE PRESIDENT

THE WHITE HOUSE

The President today appointed C. D. Jackson, of New York City, as Special Assistant to the President, with special responsibilities in the "cold war" planning of this Administration, it was announced by Sherman Adams, the Assistant to the President.

As Special Assistant to the President Mr. Jackson will serve as liaison between the various government departments and agencies active in this area.

During World War II Mr. Jackson was Deputy Chief of Psychological Warfare in Allied Forces Headquarters in North Africa under General Eisenhower and later was Deputy Chief of Psychological Warfare, SHAEF, for "Operation Overlord" -- the invasion of Continental Europe.

Born in New York City on March 16, 1902, Mr. Jackson was graduated from Princeton University in 1924. From 1924 to 1931 he headed the firm of C. D. Jackson and Company of New York, importers of building materials.

In 1931 he joined Time Inc. as Assistant to the President. He subsequently served as General Manager of Life Magazine; Vice-President of Time Inc.; Managing Director of Time-Life International; and publisher of Fortune Magazine. He resigned as publisher to accept President Eisenhower's appointment.

During the 1952 Campaign Mr. Jackson was in charge of the research-speech preparation staff at Eisenhower Headquarters at the Hotel Commodore in New York City. On January 26th the President appointed Mr. Jackson as a member of the President's Committee on International Information Activities, as a representative of the Secretary of State.

Mr. Jackson married the former Miss Grace Bristed, of New York City, in 1931. They reside at 400 East 59th Street, New York City. In Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will live at 3315 Rowland Place, N. W.
